Behind the Scenes: a design exhibition from page to stage

This year’s graduating cohort of Production & Design students from the Western Australian Academy of Performing Arts are taking their creations to the city in an exciting exhibition of set designs and costumes.

Behind the Scenes, which charts the work of a theatre designer from sketch to finished piece, will be on display from Monday 2 to Friday 6 November in the foyer of Parmelia House at the corner of St Georges Terrace and Mill Street in Perth’s CBD.

The exhibition will feature original creations by WAAPA’s Costume and Design students, recalling inspirational production moments from WAAPA’s diverse 2009 performance program.

Set designs and costumes from WAAPA’s highly successful seasons of 42nd Street, Parade, Rent, Coram Boy, Top Girls, The Lieutenant of Inishmore, As You Like It and Richard III will feature in this fabulous exhibition.

Exhibits will catch the eye of theatre and performing arts enthusiasts, whet the appetite of industry professionals and excite the general public. School and university groups are encouraged to attend.

Aiming to inspire and educate, the exhibition showcases the amazing contribution of those who work ‘behind the scenes’ in the performing arts.
