

GOOD GENERAL VOWEL LIST FOR ANY ACCENT

ʊə & u:	1. The fluent hewer moved the gruel to the stewer of bluer prunes with a congruent, poor, cruel doer.
ʊ:	2. 'Look at the cook book', said the cook as he took the pullets and put them in the nook.
ɪə	3. A weird fear was here by the cleared mere from here to here in the bleary clearing.
æ	4. The sad man was actually a cad, when marriage was banned and the bad hand got splashed by the stacked hash.
aʊ	5. 'It's how a stout brown owl scowled', mouthed the house mouse, 'and it's out with a foul brown trout'.
əʊ	6. 'I hope you don't go home alone', moaned the old crone who was holding a cold toasting poker of oak.
ɔ:	7. A bored walker swore talking about corn was a chore, in the storm-torn store outside the law.
ɒ	8. She's got a soft spot in the grotto for washing tops and bottoms of costly socks while watching odd-bods.
ə	9. Actors and authors have a special set of acquaintances above another mezzanine area of the gallery where women can alert the workers.
ju:	10. Tunes are used for new moves to lose the clues about astute losers, whose crude boots bruise the loose newts.
ɑ:	11. The task was the last that the past master could grasp, but one can't mark his charm harmfully.
ʌ	12. Don't touch much stuff, said the glum, sun-struck nun who worried over the fun-loving wonders.
aɪ	13. I might if I could try by buying slyly, fly from the guile of the white guys.
ɔɪ	14. A boy with a coin had a choice of moist soil, and boiled spoilt oysters in broiled oil.
eə	15. 'There there', said the scared, caring fairy to the fair glaring pair with flared hair.
ɜ:	16. The stern learner heard from a bird how to burn turf in Turkey and Burma.
e	17. The hell-bent hen was speckled and freshly sent by the men of the tenth regiment of the seventh section.
eɪ	18. 'Stay and wait', stated the mate 'or play stale games in the grey, unmade plain, and gain no pain'.
ɪ	19. The kids were hidden in the middle of the tin bins, where the hit list was still wished to fictionally exist.
i:	20. She was seen to be evil, in the mean streets where the bees feed, and schemes are the key.

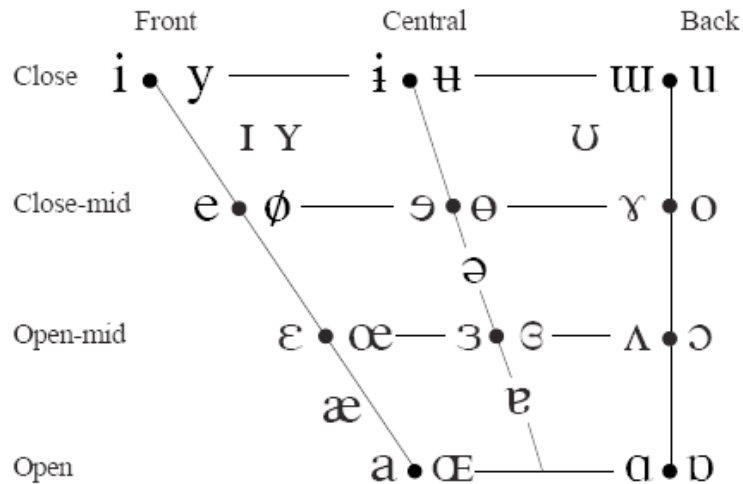

RECEIVED PRONUNCIATION – Andrew Jack (based on International Phonetic Alphabet)

Vowel Sounds			Consonants
sure	ʊə	plosives	p in	p
who	u:		b in	b
would	ʊ:
here	ɪə		t in	t
and	æ		d in	d
now	aʊ		c ome	k
know	əʊ		g un	g
aught	ɔ:
of	ɒ	affricate	ch ain	tʃ
the	ə		Jane	dʒ
new	ju:
art	ɑ:	fricative	f ine	f
must	ʌ		v ine	v
fight	aɪ		th ink	θ
toil	ɔɪ		th is	ð
care	eə		s eal	s
learn	ɜ:		z eal	z
then	e		sh eeper	ʃ
take	eɪ		mea s ure	z
his	ɪ
ease	i:	glottal	h ow	h
		nasal	so m e	m
			su n	n
			su ng	ŋ
		lateral	level [l]	ɫ
		semi-vowel	r ight	r
			w et	w
			y et	j

VOWELS

Where symbols appear in pairs, the one to the right represents a rounded vowel.

<http://www.langsci.ucl.ac.uk/ipa/images/vowels.gif>

Additional Vowels	Additional Symbols
[y] a lip rounded [i:]	[ɨ , ʉ] more close	[h] aspirated [tʰ]
[ø] a lip rounded [e]	[ɜ , ɞ] more open	[ʰ , ʱ] unaspirated consonant [t,]
[œ] a lip rounded [æ̃]	[ɜ̃] centralizing vowel [æ̃]	[~] nasal vowel [ã]
[o] back vowel	[ɶ] R coloured vowel	[ʀ] uvular R
[a] front vowel	[ʔ] glottal stop	