

WAAPA Western Australian Academy of Performing Arts

ECU City is the centrepiece of the Perth City Deal, a collaboration between the Australian Government, Western Australian Government and Edith Cowan University, to deliver Perth's first fully comprehensive inner-city university campus.

Why is WAAPA such an extraordinary place?

Firstly, it is notable for being the most comprehensive performing arts school in Australia, with the widest range of disciplines. In the one building you'll find students honing their craft as actors, dancers, musicians, music theatre performers, performance makers, arts managers, and across a diverse variety of roles in theatre production and design.

WAAPA is renowned for having produced some of Australia's most talented graduates who are now prominent in their field. This national and international success speaks to the depth of quality in our training, and the specialised expertise and dedication of our staff.

What strikes me most when I visit WAAPA is the energy and vitality of the students. These young people bring great passion and commitment to their studies, and ECU is proud to provide them with the highest standard of education and opportunity.

It is this enduring pursuit of educational excellence that underpins ECU's bold ambition for our new City campus: to create a university of the future that redefines education, where community, our students and our people are at its heart.

ECU City will be the launchpad for the creative thinkers, entrepreneurs, artists, performers and the leaders of our future. It will be a place where knowledge flourishes, ideas ignite and where research delivers groundbreaking discoveries for our world.

This will be transformational, not only for ECU but for the City of Perth and the State of Western Australia. Planning for the move to the new campus is ramping up and we have all started feeling the excitement.

Throughout this transition, we have a year of brilliant performances to keep us enthralled and entertained. I intend to help WAAPA farewell the Mount Lawley campus by attending as many of these performances as I can — and I hope you will do the same. I look forward to seeing you there.

Professor Clare Pollock

ECU Vice-Chancellor

WELCOME

This year marks the end of an era for WAAPA, as we bid farewell to ECU's Mount Lawley campus. As WAAPA's home for the last 45 years, this campus has been the training ground for many of Australia's finest performers, musicians and theatre practitioners.

Although we will be sad to leave Mount Lawley, we are also excited about the next phase in our development, as part of ECU City. With brand new performance venues and state-of-the-art facilities, this extraordinary new campus in the heart of Perth will place WAAPA firmly at the forefront of performing arts training both nationally and internationally.

Until then, I invite you to join us this year for our final performances in our much-loved Mount Lawley venues. As usual, there's something for everyone from drama to music to dance

There are two shows, however, which deserve your special attention: Antigone and Tivoli Lovely. Each is the result of a three-year creative residency process made possible by the generous support of Principal Partner, Minderoo Foundation. Declan Donnellan and Nick Ormerod of the acclaimed UK theatre company Cheek by Jowl will stage their version of Sophocles' tragedy Antigone with our 3rd Year Acting students, and Australian legend — and WAAPA graduate — Eddie Perfect brings his brilliant new musical Tivoli Lovely to life with our graduating Music Theatre cohort. These performances will be remarkable and are definitely not to be missed!

Finally, I want to thank our audiences, parents and patrons for their many years of wonderful support, for which all of us at WAAPA are truly grateful — and look forward to many more in the years to come at our new home in the city.

Professor David Shirley

Executive Dean, WAAPA

The live classical contemporary soundtrack is performed by the Melbourne-based Rubiks Collective, Australia's most dynamic and vibrant new music ensemble. The stop-motion video works are created by visual artist Sal Cooper and choreographer Gerard Van Dyck.

Inspired by the mysteries of time and different ideas of how we spend our days, A Book of Hours combines stop-motion filmed humans and animation on screen, choreographed musicians and wind-up toys on stage representing the embodied vulnerability of the human form.

Taking the medieval Book of Hours as the central concept of the work, composer Kate Neal references early Baroque influences (Couperin, Rameau) to reimagine the early canonical divisions of time.

"Call it dance or art music or just live performance. Whatever it is – A Book of Hours is the best kind of puzzle." — The Age

NORTHERN LIGHTS: DARLINGTON QUARTET

MUSIC DIRECTORS DARLINGTON QUARTET

PERFORMED BY DARLINGTON QUARTET WITH STRING CAMERATA AND STRING STUDENTS

WAAPA's String Camerata and the Darlington Quartet present Holberg Suite Op.40, Edvard Grieg's joyous 200th birthday gift to the celebrated Norwegian writer, philosopher and playwright, Ludvig Holberg. It's a sparkling reimaging of the Baroque music that Holberg would have heard during his lifetime. Shostakovich's String Quartet No. 8 in C minor, here masterfully adapted for string orchestra by Rudolf Barshai, was written after the composer's visit to a still-devastated Dresden in 1960 and is dedicated 'to the victims of fascism and war'. But this bleak and searing work, whose principal theme is made up of the composer's own initials, is also deeply personal.

MAGNIFICAT!

ST MARY'S CATHEDRAL 41 Victoria Square, Perth

MUSIC DIRECTOR DAVID WOODS

PERFORMED BY CLASSICAL VOICE STUDENTS WITH DAVID WOODS (CONDUCTOR)
AND STEWART SMITH (ORGAN)

As the largest and grandest of churches in the Christian faith, cathedrals have been designed throughout history to celebrate God's glory. In response to these magnificent buildings, composers have in turn been inspired to create their finest, most uplifting music. This program of choral music features masterpieces from the so-called English Musical Renaissance — Finzi's Lo the Full Final Sacrifice, Britten's Rejoice in the Lamb and Parry's Blest Pair of Sirens — alongside Australian composer Edgar Bainton's And I Saw a New Heaven (1928), and new compositions by prominent young West Australians Lydia Gardiner and Perry Joyce. Gardiner's Lift Thine Eyes features the upper voices of the choir whilst Joyce's Canticles, sung in the Noongar language, is quickly earning the status of a modern-day classic. Performed in the awe-inspiring St. Mary's Cathedral, this concert will transport you to a place of beauty and praise.

IN STILLNESS THE DANCING

PERFORMED BY TONYA LEMOH

A richly expressive and thought-provoking piano recital exploring the interplay of opposites, inspired by the great poet T.S. Eliot's line 'the stillness the dancing' (The Four Quartets). The program alternates works of emotional depth and introspection with the brilliance and joyfulness of dances. Haydn's profound final composition for solo piano, Variations in F minor Hob. XVII:6, and Liszt's soul-searching journey in La Vallee d' Obermann contrast with the high Romantic panache of Samuel Coleridge-Taylor's 'Three Fours' Valse Suite Op. 71 and the life-affirming vigour of Alberto Ginastera's Danzas Argentinas Op. 2.

ENRIGHT STUDIO

PERFORMED BY 3RD YEAR ACTING STUDENTS

This winter, join WAAPA's 3rd Year Acting cohort as they perform two plays by UK playwrights in repertory: Punk Rock and Consent. Working in two casts, the students will perform on alternate nights in the intimate setting of the Enright Studio. This is upclose-and-personal theatre - don't miss it.

PUNK ROCK

WRITTEN BY SIMON STEPHENS

William Carlisle has the world at his feet but its weight on his shoulders. Tucked away in an English private school library, with the dreaded exam period looming, William and his class-mates navigate the brutality of teenage life. Raw and confronting, Punk Rock taps into the rage and rebellion simmering just underneath the surface of these young people on the brink of adulthood.

CONSENT

WRITTEN BY NINA RAINE

Why is Justice blind? Is she impartial? Or is she blinkered? Friends Ed and Tim take opposing briefs in a sexual assault case. The key witness is a woman whose life is a world away from theirs. At home, their own lives begin to unravel as every version of the truth is challenged. Nina Raine's powerful, painful, funny play sifts the evidence from every side and puts Justice herself in the dock.

Expect anarchy, shape-shifting and a burning chariot of fire ... Ovid's ancient myths are spun by three leading British playwrights into a gallivanting piece of storytelling that delves into the depths of the Greek gods' cruelties and the unfortunate humans who happen to get in their way. The eternal stories of Metamorphoses are transformed into a gloriously fun theatrical performance that's both provocative and hugely entertaining.

Hibernation is a groundbreaking play that offers a uniquely Australian perspective human population into a year-long sleep to save the planet. Award-winning playwright

Finegan Kruckemeyer skilfully blends intimate human drama with speculative fiction, challenging audiences to reconsider their relationship with the environment. The play refrains from offering simple solutions, instead delving into themes of political power, environmental responsibility and human resilience. Hibernation stands as a thought-provoking theatrical work that addresses one of the most pressing issues of our time in a on climate change. Set in 2030, it explores a radical solution: putting the entire
